OH, WHAT A DIFFERENCE A YEAR CAN MAKE

Oh, what a difference a year can make!

A year ago, the state's wholesale liquor distribution system was being considered for possible elimination. The Program Elimination Commission (PEC), a legislative interim committee, was charged with reviewing all state programs and functions with a goal of identifying a 2-percent general fund savings through program elimination, privatization and the sale of public assets. Specifically identified was the possible sale of the alcoholic beverage warehouse.

Today, the Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Division's place in state government appears to be secure. The PEC issued its Final Report in December, rejecting the notion of ending the state's wholesale liquor monopoly. In fact, several commissioners openly questioned the soundness of even considering such a sale when the Division appeared before the commission.

And, in a reversal of fortunes, the Division was recently designated as a "Charter Agency." The charter agency initiative, enacted this past session, is intended to free agencies from bureaucratic "red tape." Administrative and financial incentives are also offered to participating agencies to foster innovation and to encourage operational improvements, cost reductions and revenue increases.

By Executive Order, the Division was selected by Governor Tom Vilsack as one of six state agencies to participate in the government "reinvention" pilot project. In exchange for a commitment to generate an additional $1.25 million in fiscal year savings or revenue, the Division is eligible for numerous incentives.

Some of the benefits include exemption from across-the-board budget cuts, the ability to hire employees as needed (waiving the FTE cap) and freedom from burdensome state purchasing requirements. Participants are also eligible for performance bonuses, qualified for innovation project grants, allowed partial non-reversion of unspent appropriations and permitted to retain revenue from the sale and lease of agency assets. In short, Charter Agencies are allowed to run in a more business-like manner.

The Division has initially identified several possible projects, including a primary goal of increasing revenue from its wholesale operation. For the eighth straight year, liquor sales were at a record pace the past fiscal year, eclipsing $121 million in sales with a 6.5% growth rate. This year, the Division took the holiday show statewide, repeated last year's successful nuts-and-bolts business planning sessions with licensees and will continue to satisfy consumer demand for new and exciting products in the marketplace through its dynamic listing process.

A major initiative will be to convert the state's existing 50 percent markup on all liquor to a variable markup rate. By lowering the tax on premium products, while increasing the rate paid on value goods, the state can generate additional revenue without a corresponding increase in consumption. Instead, new revenue will be derived by capturing on the national consumer trend towards high-end brands, as well as by reducing the incentive of Iowans that live in border communities to cross state lines in search of cheaper alcohol.

The Division also is pursuing a warehouse redesign intended to take advantage of available vertical space. Space created with new storage rack can be leased to other state agencies and, in so doing, generate a new revenue stream for the Division and a cost savings to the state.

And, the Division received an innovation project grant to develop electronic licensing and order entry systems. This past year, the Division revamped its web site (IowaABD.com); launched a magazine for on-premise accounts (the Iowa Liquor Quarterly) featuring a complete product list with price information; and produced an electronic newsletter (the ABD e-News) highlighting regulatory and industrial developments worldwide. Communication has been and will continue to be a primary vehicle for improving customer service and achieving greater convenience and efficiency.

These are some of the innovations that the Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Division will be able to explore as a Charter Agency. Of course, only time will tell what the future holds for the agency. As the Division can attest, a lot can change in a year.

Round Out Your Meal with Before and After-Dinner Drinks

A light apéritif sipped before a meal can stimulate your appetite and refresh your taste buds, while settling down into a comfortable chair with a smooth, mellow after-dinner beverage makes the perfect end to a memorable meal. Try a variety of apéritifs and after-dinner drinks to find out which you like best, and plan to serve your favorites the next time you host a special meal for your family and friends.

Apéritifs

Apéritifs usually have a mild taste and low alcohol content. Sample several of the following beverages both on their own and in the mixed drink recipes below to experience the delightful variety of distinctive tastes.

Amer Picon—an orange-flavored beverage that can be mixed with either seltzer water or club soda and served with a slice or wedge of lemon

Campari—a beverage flavored with fruits, spices, herbs, and roots

Cynar—a bittersweet, artichoke-flavored beverage that can be served over ice with an orange or lemon twist

Dubonnet—a California-produced beverage that comes in both red and white and is usually served chilled

Jagermeister—a flavorful beverage made with citrus, ginger, licorice, poppyseed, saffron, and other botanicals

Lillet—a Bordeaux wine-based beverage flavored with fruit liqueurs that comes in both red and white

Pernod—an anise and herb-flavored beverage

Americano

1½-2 ounces Campari

1½-2 ounces vermouth

Club soda

Slice or wedge of orange or lemon

Fill a chilled collins glass with ice. Pour in the Campari and vermouth; add enough club soda to fill the glass. Garnish with the orange or lemon slice or wedge.

Dubonnet Cocktail

*1½-2 ounces red Dubonnet
1½-2 ounces dry gin, rum, sherry, vermouth, or whiskey
Lemon slice or twist*

Pour the Dubonnet and gin or other beverage of choice over ice in a mixing glass; stir well and strain into a chilled serving glass. Garnish with a lemon slice or twist.

Lillet Cocktail

*1½-2 ounces Lillet
½-1 ounce gin
Lemon twist or slice*

Pour the Lillet and gin over ice in a mixing glass; stir well and strain into a chilled serving glass. Garnish with the lemon twist or slice.

Phoebe Snow

*1½-2 ounces brandy
1½-2 ounces red or white Dubonnet
½-1 teaspoon Pernod*

Pour the brandy, Dubonnet, and Pernod over ice in a mixing glass; stir vigorously and strain into chilled serving glass.

After-Dinner Beverages

After-dinner brandies, cordials, and fortified wines are usually "heavy" and have a sweet taste. Like apéritifs they can be enjoyed both on their own and in mixed drinks. For a spectacular finish to your meal, try a flaming drink (see the recipe for Coffee Flambé at right). Again, sample a variety of these flavorful beverages to find out which ones you prefer.

Brandy

Brandy, which comes from the Dutch term for "burnt wine," is distilled wine or fruit that is aged in oak barrels. The particular wine and/or fruit as well as the growing and production methods give each brandy its distinctive taste. The rich flavor and smooth taste of brandy makes it ideal for sipping, but it also blends well with other ingredients.

Armagnac—has been produced in France since the 15th century from premium white wine from the Armagnac region

Armagnac Stinger

*1½ ounces Armagnac
½ ounce white crème de menthe*

Pour the Armagnac and crème de menthe into a shaker half-filled with ice; shake vigorously and strain into a chilled serving glass.

Cognac—produced in the Cognac region of France from recipes dating back to the 17th century

Brandy Alexander

*1½ ounces cognac
½ ounce dark crème de cacao
1 ounce heavy cream or ice cream*

Pour the cognac, crème de cacao, and cream into a shaker half-filled with ice; shake vigorously and strain into a chilled serving glass.

Coffee Flambé

*1-1½ tablespoons cognac
1-1½ tablespoons coffee-flavored liqueur
Lemon slice
Sugar
Freshly brewed coffee*

Whipped heavy cream

Fill a coffee glass or mug with hot water and set aside.

Combine the cognac and coffee liqueur in a small saucepan and warm over low heat.

Pour out the hot water and moisten the rim of the glass with the lemon slice; dip the glass upside down in sugar. Carefully hold the top of the glass over low heat or a match to melt the sugar.

Pour the warm cognac and liqueur into the prepared glass and carefully ignite. Pour in the coffee (the flames will be extinguished) and stir well. Garnish with whipped cream.

Fruit Brandies—brandy flavored with almost any fruit imaginable

Apricot Brandy Cocktail

*1-1½ ounces apricot-flavored brandy
1-1½ ounces Triple Sec
1 lime*

Pour the brandy and Triple Sec into a shaker half-filled with ice. Cut the lime in wedges; reserve one wedge for garnish and squeeze the juice from the remaining wedges into the shaker. Shake vigorously and strain into a chilled serving glass; garnish with the lime wedge.

Cherry-Flavored Cream Rum

*1½-2 ounces light rum
½-1 ounce cherry brandy
½-1 ounce light cream*

Pour the rum, brandy, and cream into a shaker half-filled with ice; shake vigorously and strain into a chilled serving glass.

Cordials and Liqueurs

Brandy, whiskey, and other alcoholic beverages are flavored with fruits, herbs, spices, or other botanicals to produce cordials and liqueurs (the words are basically used interchangeably). Sample a few of these aromatic, sweet beverages from the list below. Sip them by themselves to enjoy the unique taste of each one and also use them in mixed drinks (please see the sample recipes below) to discover how they blend with other flavors.

Some of the most popular cordials and liqueurs include:

Amaretto—made with apricot pits and herbs, which give it an almond flavor
Anisette—flavored with anise, which gives it a rich licorice taste
Benedictine—flavored with more than 25 herbs and spices including cardamom, cloves, myrrh, nutmeg, and vanilla; B&B (Benedictine and Brandy) is a blend of Benedictine and cognac.
Chambord—flavored with framboises (small black raspberries) and other fruits plus herbs and honey
Cointreau—flavored with a blend of bitter and sweet oranges
Crème de Cacao—flavored with vanilla and cacao (cocoa) beans; comes in both white and brown varieties
Crème de Cassis—flavored with black currants plus other fruits and berries Crème de Menthe—flavored with mint and spearmint; comes in both green and white (clear) varieties.

Curaçao—flavored with dried Curaçao orange peel; available in both orange and blue

Drambuie—made with malt whiskies that are at least 15 years old and flavored with heather honey and a secret blend of special herbs

Galliano—flavored with more than 30 ingredients including anise, juniper, lavender, vanilla, and yarrow musk

Godiva Liqueur—flavored with Godiva chocolate

Grand Marnier—made with cognac and flavored with wild oranges

Irish Cream—made with Irish whiskey and rich cream flavored with natural ingredients

Kahlúa—made with cane sugar alcohol flavored with coffee

Midori—flavored with green honeydew melon

Rock and Rye—made with rye whiskey flavored with fruits

Sloe Gin—flavored with sloes (the small, dark-purple, plumlike fruit of the blackthorn)

Southern Comfort—made from a secret recipe that includes bourbon, brandy, herbs, and peaches

Tia Maria—made with rum flavored with coffee and spices

Triple Sec—flavored with a blend of oranges

The Blue Lady

1½-2 ounces blue curaçao
 ½-1 ounce white crème de cacao
 ½-1 ounce light cream

Pour the curaçao, crème de cacao, and cream into a shaker half-filled with ice; shake vigorously and strain into a chilled serving glass.

The Grasshopper

½-1 ounce green crème de menthe
 ½-1 ounce white crème de cacao
 ½-1 ounce light or heavy cream

Place ice in a blender and pour in all of the ingredients; blend until smooth and strain into a chilled serving glass.

Be a Responsible Host

Help your guests drink responsibly:

- Always offer food with drinks.
- Never "push" a drink on anyone.
- Provide a variety of nonalcoholic beverages so no one feels awkward or left out if they do not have a mixed drink, wine, or beer.
- Avoid serving additional drinks to an intoxicated person.
- Select a designated driver.

Whenever you serve alcoholic beverages, be aware of the immediate effects of alcohol consumption and play it safe on the number of drinks you offer each person.

Bar Tips: Decanters

Add a touch of elegance or whimsy to your next party by serving wine, brandy, or other spirits from a decanter. To find a decanter that suits your style or mood, visit the glassware department of your local stores or browse online catalogs (type in “decanter” to get a list of available Web sites). You will see a beautiful, eye-catching variety of containers in everything from lead crystal and intricately patterned cut and etched glass to smooth, sleek containers in both traditional and fanciful shapes.

When transferring a beverage from its original container to a decanter, use a funnel to avoid spillage. Funnels also come in a wide variety of materials (from glass to pewter and other metals) and shapes (tall, short, wide, and narrow). Some decanters come with a “nesting” funnel designed to fit the neck of the container. If you plan to decant aged red wine, you might want to use a funnel that has a screen designed to catch sediment.

A word of caution about using leaded glassware and lead-glazed pottery. The soft surface of lead crystal and lead glazing allows lead to leach into liquids. While only varying trace amounts of lead leach into a beverage served in a lead crystal glass or lead-glazed cup, higher amounts will leach into wine, spirits, and fruit juice stored in a lead crystal or lead-glazed decanter for a period of time. To help minimize exposure to lead, use these containers to serve rather than store beverages.

THE POLO LOUNGE

AT The Beverly Hills Hotel

Glamorous Hollywood stars have been coming to The Polo Lounge ever since it opened in 1912. Will Rogers, Marilyn Monroe, Loretta Young, Yves Montand, Marlene Dietrich, Frank Sinatra, John Wayne, Henry Fonda, Humphrey Bogart, and Elizabeth Taylor frequently met friends and show biz associates for a drink or meal at this well-known upscale bar inside the world-famous Beverly Hills Hotel on Sunset Boulevard. More recently Harry Connick Jr., Whitney Houston, and Stevie Wonder have not only been seen but also heard singing impromptu performances for admirers gathered in the lounge.

If you're in Hollywood, be sure to spend some time at The Polo Lounge. And while you're scanning the crowd for the rich and famous, step back in time and enjoy some apricot brandy, a beverage of choice for many of The Polo's patrons in years past. You can either sip it slowly from a snifter or in a mixed drink, such as the whimsically named Paradise.

Basic Paradise Cocktail

1-2 ounces gin

1-1½ ounces apricot-flavored brandy

1-1½ ounces freshly squeezed orange juice

½ ounce freshly squeezed lemon juice, if desired

Pour the, gin, brandy, orange juice, and lemon juice (if desired) into a shaker half-filled with ice; shake vigorously and strain into a chilled cocktail glass.
